Critic's Report.

Considering the subject of the debate and the high quality of humor used by all the contestants the order, with a few exceptions, was very good.

It was a very noticeable fact, however, that our friend Mr MacKenzie, who has been absent from us for some time, had had his shoes resoled, or at least, if this is not the case, he is not at all top heavy.

We were glad to see how our friend from Langhorne was appreciated. Applause is, certainly, a very good method of subduing the forwardness of the rustic mind.

The debate was exceedingly excellent. We had no idea that so much oratory could be piled such a dull sounding question. We believe that the score, kept by the judges, was the highest ever made in the history of the society.

We would suggest that the two Lawrence's, having been successfully tried on opposite sides of the debate three times, be tried in tandem just once to see how they will work.

Mr Lawrence, either one, made the best debate.

He is probably the first debator of the society.

We would suggest
Thomas Pine Tree Tarr Tissues, obtainable at any drug store, price, ten cents per ounce, for the use of Mr. Hewitt

We greatly missed our boy orator, Mr. Camp and sincerely hope that an injury to his voice, was not the cause of his absence.
