

Critic's Report

for April 30.

The order on this day was notably good, except for one or two outbreaks of laughter. The debate was exceedingly excellent; many points of a humorous and a scientific nature were demonstrated. ~~subject~~ The various speakers handled the subject in a way which proved undoubtedly that they were thoroughly conversant with the matter in hand. The president showed great discretion and great collectiveness in classifying the point, and in deciding the debate.

Wrentham,
New Jersey

May 14, 1897.

Chas. H. Bentler

