Trenton N. J. - May 12. 1898.

Critic's Report of the meeting of the Theonomic Society, on Friday May 6 1898.

The order of the meeting was but a slight improvement on that of the previous one. The Society should improve in this particular. The decorum of the members of the Theonomic should always be such that visitors would be favorably impressed. It is to be hoped that the shameful occurrence of the Society being forced to adjourn, because there was not a quorum present will not become a precedent. All the members should feel it their privilege to attend the meetings and to do their share of the work, to the best of their ability, and thereby, to assist the president in his strenuous efforts to make the Theonomic better than ever.

Respectfully submitted
Joseph S. Bodine.
