Class Song

Words by MARGUERITE GALLEN.

I

In 1909 we entered here
With feelings of fear and awe.
Helpless and wondering we roamed,
Careful to keep each law.
We heard our orders given;
We still were in a maze;
Ah, our wonderings, our ponderings,
Ah, these we'll ne'er forget.

II

Soon our troubles faded;
Entered in truth, the life
Of Normal and its pleasures—
With labor it seemed rife.
We did our work and gained thereby,
We loved old Normal, too.
Ah, our hopes and joys, our hopes and joys,
Ah, these will never fade.

III

As a ship we weathered the storm,
And faced the rainbow fair,
And at the end of the voyage
We part with fellowship rare
The last hour approaches
We say farewell to all.
Ah, our loyalty to Normal,
We pledge it with a will.
